To Whom it May Concern,

Upon my interest in being a JAG officer, I am excited to begin taking the steps towards this career. My position on active duty in the Air force has encouraged me to also apply for the FLEP program this coming year. It is a very competitive program and I believe that is where I need to be to enhance my pathway on becoming a JAG.

I am a determined, hardworking individual, that has a bachelors in international affairs. With this, I have been educated on the impact of politics, culture, and how history has formed global relationships, while also understanding the importance of being rightfully informed. There is a lot more than surface level understanding and more when you seek the purpose of different implementations.

I am excited to bring my skills to the table and show just how capable I am as a JAG officer. I am eager to connect soon on taking the next steps in being a part of making our Military better. I look forward to discussing my qualifications in this position with you.

Sincerely,

Gabby Delgado
